1. The Doctors, May 11, 2015. Dr. Motykie discusses the importance of conducting thorough research on the different types of breast implants available today, as well as on their warranties, many of which have changed dramatically in the past year. Dr. Motykie offers a consultation for a woman from northern California whose implants ruptured, resulting in major pain and discomfort, and ends the episode by surprising the patient with a free breast augmentation revision to correct the ruptured implant.
2. KTLA 5 Los Angeles "Health Smart: The Healing Curve": October 21, 2014. Dr. Motykie discusses his charity foundation The Healing Curve and invites viewers to apply. He started the foundation to lend a helping hand to women who have beaten breast cancer, but were left with deformity from the treatments that saved their lives. Many insurance companies do not cover the cost of breast reconstruction surgeries and the foundation offers survivors the chance to rebuild their bodies to feel like themselves again. The Healing Curve has now expanded its mission beyond breast cancer to providing reconstructive surgery to anyone who has suffered a deformity as a result of an illness or injury.
3. KTLA 5 Los Angeles "Health Smart: Wellness Weekend": October 16, 2014. Dr. Motykie announced a weekend of wellness at his relaxing retreat- Motykie Med Spa. Instead of taking the weekend to stray from your diet, Dr. Motykie invited the viewers to his office for a weekend of holistic healing with experts in a variety of health and beauty fields there to educate and demonstrate their wellness specialties.

4. KTLA 5 Los Angeles “Health Smart: The Internet Isn’t the Only Source to Evaluate Doctors”: July 16, 2014. When researching a doctor, the Internet can provide some guidance, but there is a lot of misinformation about surgeons in the digital world too — don’t depend on the same type of review system that is used to rate movies or restaurants to rate your doctor. Check your surgeon’s education, experience, and aesthetic sense prior to having any procedure performed on your own body. Let professional specialty societies and board certification agencies do some of the work for you as well.
5. KTLA 5 Los Angeles “Money Smart: Risks of Bargain Hunting When Shopping for a Plastic Surgeon”: April 7, 2014. Plastic surgery is a billion dollar business, especially in Southern California, but it’s expensive and many consumers are looking for ways to cut costs. Since he spends 50% of his time repairing incorrect surgeries, Dr. Motykie warns against bargain shopping for plastic surgery and non-invasive aesthetic treatments since repairing bad jobs can be more expensive than paying for quality surgery.
